PREFACE

IN presenting the Fifty-Fourth Annual Edition of the City of Hamilton Directory, we thank the business men and patrons in general for the liberal and enthusiastic support which they have given us. The number of names of individuals in the Alphabetical Directory is 59,058, which, multiplied by 2½, the usual figure used by Directory Publishers, gives a population of 147,645 for Hamilton and the adjacent outskirts. This estimate includes the residents of West Hamilton and the section on the Mountain Top, which is not in the City Limits, and also a number of persons who live in the surrounding towns and villages but who are employed in Hamilton.

Our estimate of the population of Hamilton proper is 136,959.

Hamilton's Growth

1867 - 1927

Year	Population City Proper City Figures	Population Including Outskirts Directory Estimates	Assessment
1867	21,485	—	8,968,803
1877	32,641	—	14,715,126
1887	41,712	—	20,576,830

1927	123,359	147,645	153,882,500

The increase in population in the last 20 years is about 100%.

Our estimate of the population for the city with outskirts last year was 142,285; for this year 147,645, an increase of 5,360.

Studying these figures, there is every reason to believe that Hamilton will at least double its population every twenty years.

James Dickinson Deliberately Reduced His Salary $18 a Month

A NORTH AMERICAN LIFE man was explaining insurance to James Dickinson, a young salaried man employed by a well-known Canadian Company.

"Suppose your employers offered you a contract which provided for the payment of:

- (1) $10,000 to your heirs at your death.
- (2) $20,000 in case your death were accidental.
- (3) A monthly income of $100 for life, if you became disabled and unable to work. At your death your heirs would still receive $10,000.
- (4) A regular pension to fall back upon in your old age when your working days were over.

"In return for these privileges they proposed to hold back $18 of your salary each month.

"Would you accept such an offer?"
"Of course I'd accept"—replied James Dickinson. "Who wouldn't? I'd be ahead every way on that proposition."

"That," returned the representative, "is exactly what North American Life offers you in our Four-Way Policy. To put this into effect, however, you must be your own boss. It's up to you to hold back the $18 each month and deposit it as you would savings. Can you do it?"

James Dickinson didn't even hesitate. He then and there reduced his own salary $18 a month and, in doing so, contracted for the most complete protection a man can have.

Would such an offer interest you? You can apply part of your income as James Dickinson applied his, in a North American Four-Way Policy. Send for our booklet—"It Pays Four Ways."
